SUPERIOR COURT IN SESSION.

A special session of the Superior Court of this state was held at Middletown on Tuesday (the 23rd of August, 1815), for the trial of PETER LUNG, for the murder of his wife. He was found guilty by the jury and sentenced to be hanged at Middletown on the 23rd day of November next.—From the Mirror.

CAPTURE OF GUADALUPE.

By arrivals from the West Indies, we learn that the British attacked Guadalupe on the 8th day of August, 1815, with a force of about 6,000 men and after a desperate action the British were repulsed with great slaughter. The island was defended by 160 troops of the line and the militia.

It is said the British made two more attempts to take possession of the island on the same day, but were equally unsuccessful, when they withdrew their forces to the Saints, to wait for reinforcements from the leeward islands. The attacks were made made at Cabesterre and at the Three Rivers.

On the 11th, the French fled to the westward, and on the 12th the British entered the town of St. Pierre. The British officers were deprived of their swords and then men of their knapacks, and they were to be immediately executed for France to be placed at the disposal of the Duke of Wellington.

BRITISH ISLANDS SUFFERING.

The suffering of the British Islands are great in consequence of their ports being shut against the principal articles of American produce, which is much wanted there, and the inhabitants strongly remonstrate against the system adopted by the mother country as it respects their trade with us.

The late Commercial Treaty, we hope, will remedy this evil so injurious to both parties.

TWENTY YEARS AGO.

SOME REMINISCENCES.

In looking over the list of The Farmer published in 1891, one finds much of interest, even at this late date. There are still many living here who remember the stirring events of those times and the all-important issues at stake. There was little talk of except the Civil War.

The Farmer of April 27, 1861, contains a brief account of the attack on the Sixth Massachusetts Regiment, when passing through Baltimore and also an account of the passage through here of the Seventh Massachusetts, April 27. In Baltimore the volunteers were attacked, straggled and some killed and wounded. Here the volunteers were cheered and otherwise received with demonstrations of joy. A salute was first, but that was attended with sad results in the killing of Leopold Schmidt and wounding of Peter Ehrhard.

The same day, the German Rifle, Capt. J. M. Spidel, and First Volunteer company, Capt. H. H. Fitzgerald, left for New Haven and were escorted to the depot by the Wheeler & Wilson band and a large procession of soldiers and citizens. The captain of each company was presented with 500 copies of "The Star Spangled Banner," and "America," with instructions to distribute them to the men when gathered round the camp fires so that all might join in and sing them.

The paper also contained an account of the great war meeting of Saturday evening, April 20, presided over by Daniel H. Sterling, who was then mayor. The vice presidents of this meeting were: Russell Tomlinson, W. H. Noble, J. C. Blackman, Stephen Loveberg, James H. Wilson, A. N. Benedict, Clapp Sponser, Phil H. Skidmore, W. G. Linebush, J. D. Alford, Frederick Wood and Emory Strong. The secretaries were Frederick Freyer, S. B. Ferguson, Jr., and F. H. Hurd.

Captain Spidel mentioned in connection with the German Rifle company, afterwards became colonel of the Sixth Connecticut Volunteers, and Captain Fitzgerald, became colonel of the Ninth Connecticut Volunteers. Both performed gallant service throughout the Civil War. The latter is the present health officer.

AT THE THEATRES.

"Peck's Bad Boy" is playing the Auditorium this week. Tomorrow night Gus Hill's Naxos commencing on the engagement of three performances.

"Wang" comes to the Park City this evening.

Mr. James will be seen at the Park City Wednesday afternoon and evening in productions of "Virginia" and "Othello."

Thursday evening Friarose & West's big minstrel company will hold the boards at the Park City theatre. Friday and Saturday they will present the greatest of all dramatic successes, "The Brooklyn Handicap."

The advance said for Jefferson Klav and Erlanger's great spectacular production of "Palmer Cox's Brownies," which ran for 150 nights to overflow crowds at the Fourteenth Street theatre in New York, will open at the box office of the Park City theatre Thursday morning.

CONFERENCE OF CATHOLIC CLERGY.

Rev. Fathers Rogers, Cremin, Forman, Ardens, Nichols, O'Brien and Carter, all Catholic pastors of this city, are in Hartford today in attendance at the synod held at the Episcopal residence on Farmington Avenue. Bishop Michael Tierney will preside at the conference at which many important matters are to come up for discussion. The assistants, pastors and curates will meet for the same purpose Thursday.

WEDDING BELLS.

At the parsonage of the Park Street Congregational church recently Rev. E. G. Fullerton united in marriage Miss Mamie, daughter of ex-Representative Louis Kutscher, and Charles H. Beardsley of Stratford. Only the relatives of the contracting parties witnessed the ceremony. The bride is well known in East Bridgeport and popular with a large circle of acquaintances. The groom is one of the best known young men in

STRATFORD AND IS A TOOLMAKER AND MACHINIST.

This evening at the residence of Rev. Mr. Tilly of the German Evangelical Lutheran church on Kosuth street, William Burkhardt of Knowlton street and Maria Winthorpe will be united in wedlock. Only a few relatives will be present.

THE MORTUARY RECORD.

WOULD UNITE ALL DIFFERENT SECTIONS OF LUTHERAN CHURCH

Rock Island, Ill., Sept. 9.—The general council of the Lutheran Church in America, which is said to represent about 750,000 communicants, will begin its 35th biennial convention here tomorrow. Among the most important matters that will come up for consideration will be Foreign Mission Work, which is particularly strong in the "Far East." German Lutheran missions in India have suffered because since the European war began has not been forthcoming from the home country, and on account of this the American Lutherans have been appealed to for help. The problem of the English home missions in Canada is also said to be one of the most pressing matters.

The approaching centennial of the Reformation under Martin Luther, will occupy much attention. A movement is in progress to unite all sections of the Lutheran church in this country in a grand public celebration and in fact, overtures have been made to have representatives of all protestant churches give special attention to this Quadracentennial Jubilee. A feature of the Lutheran church celebration is the planning for a large memorial fund to be used for all forms of church work. The program will be made up of other sections of the church to unite in raising a $10,000,000 fund.

F. OF A. SHEEP ROAST.

The committee for the first annual sheep roast of the combined courts of Foresters of America will meet this evening in their rooms, 1089 Broad street, to make further plans for the outing. It is likely that a baseball game will be arranged between the F. of A. courts in the Fraternal Base Ball League.

Other amusements are also being planned. The outing will be held on the West End Baseball Park Sunday, Sept. 13.

Cotton boll weevil quarantine was declared against Deatur, Grady, Thomas and Brook counties, Georgia.

LABOR LEADERS PAY COMPLIMENT TO MAYOR RICE

New Haven Executive's Address Commented On at State Convention

(Special to The Farmer)

New Haven, Sept. 9.—Labor leaders, gathered here for the convention of the State Federation of Labor, today were complimenting Mayor Rice of New Haven, for the tone of his address of welcome which was a feature of the opening session.

Mayor Rice endorsed the organization of labor bodies, and their campaigns for better working conditions. He suggested that a state board of arbitration be given wide powers for the settling of difference that might arise between employers and employees.

Referring to the present situation, where a campaign has been centered on shorter hours and a fair share of the huge profits for the employees, Mayor Rice said:

"At the present time we are extremely busy. Not in a long time, has business been so prosperous as it is in this state today. I want to say to the great demands for war supplies. Now we all know that these manufacturers are making large profits from this business, and I do not think that there is any reason why they should not divide their profits with their help."

"And I believe this will be accomplished," the mayor went on. "A good start has been made. Certain concerns have granted shorter hours and larger pay and have adopted a pension system, and so forth, perhaps not accomplishing everything you want in this line but I want to say in all sincerity that it is going the right way, and that I believe that if you take these matters up with the heads of your concerns, if the heads of your organizations will put it up to them in the right way, you are going to accomplish what you want without striking or shutting the shop."

The convention was much interested in the address on "prohibition" by International Vice-President Sullivan, of the United Brewery Workers' Union. He pointed out the effect prohibition would have on the 60,000 members affiliated with that body.

It was voted that representatives of newspapers bearing the union label be admitted to the meetings. Newspaper editors are to receive reports of the convention through the press committee.

ISLE OF MAN IS ON VERGE OF BANKRUPTCY; IT MAY BE ANNEXED

London, Sept. 9.—The Isle of Man, which has enjoyed home rule since ancient times, is in such an economic quandary that a proposal to ask the imperial government to annex the island was recently considered in the House of Commons, the legislative assembly of the island. The member who moved the resolution declared that the island faced "imminent starvation and bankruptcy owing to the bungling and incompetence of the present island administration."

The motion for annexation was formally seconded and two other members were in favor of it, but the proposition was eventually lost and the island continues for the present under its own government.

The Isle of Man is one of the favorite resorts of thousands of Lancashire cotton workers and other factory employees, and is practically dependent on visitors, who pay a special duty towards the upkeep of piers and harbors. This year, however, the fast steamers have been withdrawn, and only one slow winter boat makes a trip daily. The hotels and boarding houses are closed. Three of the finest hotels shelter only one visitor each.

Rev. William Beardsley and family who have spent the summer at the Beardsley cottage have returned to New Haven.

Miss Edna Eastwood left this week for New Britain where she resumed her studies at the Normal school.

Mr. and Mrs. William Kruger entertained several house guests from Bridgeport over the week-end.

HEIRS IN REDDING WILL BENEFIT BY MRS. BARNES' WILL

Republican "Conference" Makes Party's Caucus Just An O. K. Performance.

Redding, Sept. 9.—An estate of more than $200,000 is disposed of by the will of Mrs. Harriet Barnes, aged 85, who died recently at her apartments in a New York hotel. Her three children are Attorney Herbert S. Barnes of Redding Ridge, Harry Barnes of Vermont and Mrs. Lucinda Howard of Buffalo. To each of these is bequeathed $50,000 in trust and to each of the nine grandchildren $2,000 each. One of the latter is Mrs. Helen Mayberry of the ridge, only child of Harry Barnes. All the other grandchildren are minors, six being children of H. S. Barnes and two children of Mrs. Howard. Other bequests are $5,000 to Booker Washington for a school, $2,000 to the American Red Cross, $2,000 for educational and missionary work among the Indians on reservations and $2,000 to the Salvation Army. All these bequests are to be paid out of the income of the estate.

The estate consists mostly of two fine houses, one located in 51st street, New York, and the other in Buffalo. Their aggregate value is about $75,000 and will direct that they be sold and the proceeds divided as above stated. Upon the demise of the present chief legatees the trust bequests are to be divided among their children. The will names a Herbert S. Barnes as sole executor.

The Republican caucus to nominate candidates for town officers to be elected on the first Monday in October will be held on Saturday evening at the town house and the Democratic caucus on Monday evening next at the same place. Public interest in the makeup of the tickets or in the result of the election has not yet perceptibly awakened. Were there public knowledge of what occurred at a conference held last Saturday evening at the residence of Chairman Barnes of the Republican town committee that party ticket in its virtual entirety could doubtless be announced here and now. Probably its most interesting feature was the decision made known by Mr. Barnes that he would not again run for selection on account of pressure of other business cares. It is understood that Sanford H. Osborn was selected as the successor candidate. It is also said that Zebulon Read is in a receptive mood as regards a renomination and will probably be gratified with it unless a scare arises against his availability. John Muennich will surely go on the ticket for tax collector and probably Mr. Hill will be renominated for town treasurer on the Democratic side. Selectman Sullivan will be renominated if he can be prevailed upon to accept. No safe prediction can be made as to the result of the election, although the chances rather favor Joel Godfrey. For town clerk, J. B. Sanford, the present incumbent, is assured of a renomination and it would probably be the choice of the Republicans as was the case last year with the probable judgeship.

The Gilbert & Bennett Co. have decided to build a new school house, which shall be a one story building and construction operations are to start upon it immediately. The contractors are Louke & Clarke of Wallingford. S. H. Osborn of the Ridge will do the excavating for the foundation, defining a part of the excavation to provide a cellar. The ground dimensions of the building are about 120 by 70 feet. The entire length on one side is to be taken up by six rooms, each end on the opposite side is to be another room, making eight in all. The space remaining is to be finished off for an assembly hall, which will have a seating capacity for about 250. The stone work of the foundation is to be carried above the ground surface and brick used as the material for the rest of the walls.

Two auto mishaps occurred on the Ridge last Sunday. D. S. Sanford instructed the driving of his car to a boy, the only other occupant, and below the Teets residence the machine left the road and bumped violently against the steep bank. No apparent harm resulted. Half a mile or so further on the car made another side flight and this time knocked down a considerable portion of a substantial stone wall. Mr. Sanford and the youthful driver managed to retain their places in the car, but the machine was put out of commission from a twisted front axle and other damages. At about the same hour H. L. Livermore's new car was rudely raked near Pine Tree Corner by a badly steered machine which kept right on and was out of view before its number could be taken. One of the Livermore car was displaced.

Applications for enrollment in the rifle company which Herr Schoch is organizing have increased to fifty with the prospect of a further increase to at least seventy-five. As soon as a reply is received from the War Department for detailed information and an allotment of guns and training steps will be taken towards the completion of the organization and the beginning of drill and target practice.

Reeling grange will hold its annual social exhibition at above hall on the Ridge on the afternoon and evening of Friday, Sept. 17. The hearty co-operation of the townspeople in the affair is invited, both by attendance and the offering as exhibits of products of the farm and garden. There will be no admission charge and the ladies will serve cream, cake and other refreshments.

Miss Robert Carter, while on a visit to her sister Mrs. John N. Nickerson, at Redding Center, was prostrated with a severe shock one day last week. An ambulance conveyed her to her home in New York.

Conveyance was made last Saturday of the files and pick property at the Center to Mrs. Elizabeth Rechelle. As regards price comparison the transaction was an exceptional one in local real estate history by reason of the fact that nearly forty years ago the property sold for $3,500, which is about $1,000 more than Mrs. Rechelle paid for it. For a number of years past the trend of Redding realty has been decidedly upward rather than downward and this single instance by no means indicates that a reverse of this tendency may be looked for. Harry L. one of the grantors, will remove to Bridgeport.

Miss Marion A. Hewson, who has so successfully conducted the Ridgewood high school, left yesterday for Rochester, N. Y., where she is to become instructor in psychology and English literature at the Mechanics Institute. She closed an engagement this summer as teacher of psychology in Adelphi college. Her successor at the Sanford school is to be Mrs. Craig who, with her husband, conducted a summer hotel this season at the Center. Bills for the taxes which become due on Oct. 1 are being sent out by Collector Muennich. All property taxes on the 1915 list which remain unpaid by Sept. 15 will be secured by the filing of liens.

Joel G. Hawley of the west side shipped to the State fair at Hartford last week an entire car load of potatoes raised on his farm. The collection comprised many varieties of potatoes, corn and other vegetables and grains, the latter including specimens of about all kinds of grass seeds suitable for New England cultivation.

The Sanford school will reopen Sept. 2 with about 50 boarding pupils and the former staff of instructors, including Mrs. Bryant, as secretary. She has just invested in a new piano. Che Lieng, a former pupil, spent the vacation in his native China and is due at San Francisco Saturday on his return trip.

Jean Verd, the famous French pianist who has been a guest at the Ridgewood Inn, entertained a gathering at Miss J. H. Sanford's residence last Friday evening with selections de interpreted. On Saturday, Sept. 10, of last year, Monsieur Verd was playing the piano at his home in Paris when a bomb dropped by a German airman fell upon the house adjoining and killed a woman and her child.

As to the excavation near the Center Congregational church recently referred to it appears that this season's road work will be reasonably complete, a small part of it. They took out perhaps half a dozen loads whereas about 150 loads were removed by a crew operating three or four years ago.

The monthly meeting of Fire Co. No. 1, Tuesday evening, was occupied mostly with a general discussion of a new conditions and needs. Three new members joined, two active and one associate.

Herr Schoch is about to build a garage near his bungalow at the Five Points. His next move will be the purchase of an auto.

Mrs. Jesse H. Duncan is arranging to spend the winter of 1915-16 in the vicinity of Hartford where she has relatives.

THE HOUSE OF PARMA.

The war has brought about a division in the ranks of the ducal family of Bourbon-Parma, which formerly reigned over the Italian duchy and now while Prince Sixte and Prince Xavier are officers of the Belgian army, Prince Elie and other members of the family are with the Austrian forces, while Princess Zita of Parma, who was married to Archduke Charles of Austria, will become Empress of Austria and Queen of Hungary on the death of Francis Joseph.

The late Duke of Bourbon-Parma was a pretender to the throne of Italy, but his claims were considered so futile that he was permitted to reside in Italy, while the reigning house often extended financial aid to needy members of the rival line. The late Duke married first Princess Maria Pia of the Sicilian Bourbon line, his own cousin. She died in 1882, after having given him five daughters, and three sons, all but one of whom were mentally deficient. The one normal child of this marriage, Prince Elie, is a colonel of Austrian dragoons. He, too, married a cousin, Archduchess Marie Anne of Austria. In 1884 the late Duke married another cousin, Princess Maria Antonia de Parma, who is related to the Portuguese royal house of Braganza. She gave the Duke 13 children, of whom Prince Sixte and Prince Xavier are officers of the Belgian army and have given a good account of themselves in Flanders. Maria Pia, the second wife of the late Duke, still survives. Princess Zita, the future Empress of Austria, is the only one of her children who is married. Two of her daughters, Princess Adelaide and Princess Francesca, are nuns, the latter having taken the veil last month at the Benedictine convent at Ryde, Isle of Wight.

The American Brass Co. of Waterbury, Conn., increased the pay of its employees 10 per cent. Several thousand men are affected.
